

MAP ~ The Art and Science of Responsive Lesson Planning
August 16 & 17, 2018

9:00 - Setting the Stage:

- Welcome and Overview
- Your Interactive Guide

9:30 - Understanding and Utilizing Key Reports:

- Class, Class Breakdown, Learning Continuum
- Our focus is on Spring Data to inform Fall Instruction
- Is summer slide for real?

Data to Instruction Template:

- Choose your Focus and Create your groups

10:30 – 10:45 Break

10:45 - Understanding Differentiation:

- What is differentiation?
- Differentiating content based on readiness
- Role of MAP Growth in differentiated instruction

Resources for Differentiating Content

- Learning Centers (Khan, RIT to Concepts, fortheteachers.org)

11:45 - Ladders for Learning

- Learning Continuum: Guide to Learning
- Choose your goals – design your lesson – how to start!

12:30 – 1:00 Lunch

1:00 – 3:00 (break as needed)

Planning to Support Differentiation

- Current Reality
- Data to Instruction – design your lesson

3:00 – 3:30 - Reflection and Planning

- Lesson Share
- Assess, reflect and plan
- Keep Learning!

Candice Fowler

Professional Learning Consultant

CELL PHONE 603.714.0408

candi.fowler@nwea.org

Measuring What Matters